PROCEDURE FOR ISSUE OF CERTIFICATE OF ORIGIN

Certificate of Origin is required by most countries to establish proof of origin of the goods being imported by them. There are two types of certificate of origin namely, (i) Certificate of Origin for preferential treatment given under GSP (of different countries). SAARC Preferential Trading Agreement (SAPTA), Bangkok Agreement and GSTP and (ii) Certificate of Origin for purposes other than preferential purpose given under article II of International Convention of Simplification of Customs formalities. FIEO has been authorized to issue Certificate of Origin under SAPTA, Bangkok Agreements and non-preferential purposes. It is not authorized to issue this certificate under generalized system of preferences (GSP) (under which various developed countries offer tariff preference as the developing countries) and global system of trade preferences (GSTP) under which the developing countries give preference to member-countries of GSTP.
