

Louisa

To the woman who gave her heart, mind, and home to seeing this labour through to its complete fruition – my thesis director and true friend – I say thank you.

Mommy

To the woman who has stirred up, cultivated, and nourished every impulse within me to accomplish something greater – my mother – I say thank you.

Daddy

To the man who breathed faith and stability into my family structure, making the unattainable seem all the more attainable – my father – I say thank you.

La'Kaé and La'Kea

To the young women who have been defining me and my idiosyncrasies since birth – my sisters – I say thank you.

Valerie

To the young woman who will forever be integral to how I experience the world outside of Bermuda – my heart and soul sistah – I say thank you.

Aurora

To the young woman who holds a tremendous wealth of power in her tongue and mind – my Mexican 'dawn' – I say thank you.

Claudia

To the young woman who effortlessly inspires me to push beyond, simply because she believes it to be true – my Mexican sunshine – I say thank you.

Shannon

To the young man who was praying me through even when I was scarcely aware of the affection – my oldest and much cherished friend – I say thank you.
