

CONTENTS

ABSTRACT

INTRODUCTION

International Relations and the Contextual Approach

- ∞ Particular Problems: The Theoretical, Ethical and Practical Challenges of Global Citizenship
- ∞ Central Problematic and Purpose, and Main Hypothesis
- ∞ Division of Chapters

CHAPTER 1

Changing Paradigms of Citizenship: Toward the Construction of a

Global Citizenship

1. The Liberal Account: Thin Citizenship as a Passive Status
  - 1.1. The Shifting Modern-Liberal Citizenship Paradigm*
2. Active Citizenship: Politics, Public Space and Inter-Action
3. Globalisation and the Postmodern Paradigm: Post-national Citizenship and Agonistic Pluralism
  - 3.1. Post-national Citizenship*
  - 3.2. Agonistic Pluralism*
4. Conclusion: Re-imagining Citizenship: Problems of Imaging and Performing Global Citizenship

CHAPTER 2

Global Citizenship and the Democratic Process for Constructing ‘Global’

Political Boundaries

1. Re-assessing the Modern-Liberal Notion of Political Community
2. The Cosmopolitan Moral and Democratic Global Citizenship
3. Constructing Political Boundaries: The Deliberative Democratic Approach and Cosmopolitan Norms toward the Practice of Global Citizenship
4. Conclusion: Toward the Practice and Implementation of Global Citizenship

CHAPTER 3

Global Citizenship: From the Global Public and Cosmopolitan Governance to

‘Global’ Democratic Iterations

1. ‘Making’ a Global Public? Human Rights and Moral Cosmopolitanism as the Normative Ground of Global Citizenship
2. The Practice of Global Citizenship: Contesting Cosmopolitan Global Democracy as Global Governance Reforms
  - 2.1. A Democratic Critique
3. Action in Multi-tier ‘Global’ Publics: Moral Cosmopolitanism and Democratic Iterations as the Normative Ground and Democratic Practice of Global Citizenship
  - 3.1. ‘Global’ Civil Society and Legal Constituencies: ‘Strong’ and ‘Weak’ Milieus for Meaningful Global Citizenship
4. Conclusion: ‘Global’ Citizenship: Multi-spatial Milieus for Political and Democratic Action

CONCLUSION

- ∞ Summary of Chapters
- ∞ General Conclusions

BIBLIOGRAPHY